Location: Thurgood Marshall Library
Job Title: Head of Instruction and Engagement Librarian II (Faculty)

Responsibilities:
Responsible for overall planning, development, implementation, promotion, and assessment of the library educational programs, including library orientation, course-integrated sessions, co-curricular skill-building, and information literacy sessions for undergraduate and graduate students and faculty development offerings. Coordinates and works collaboratively with Thurgood Marshall Librarians to facilitate their involvement in overall library instruction services and participates in the activities of groups such as the Library Student Council. Coordinates and promotes library instruction services to the campus community and to faculty and students by working collaboratively with campus entities such as the various Colleges from Academic Affairs, Academic Support departments, the Tutoring Center, the Center for Faculty Development and Excellence, and other departments/programs that support undergraduate and graduate education and faculty development. Coordinates instruction efforts with Teaching and Learning Technologies, including integrating library resources within the learning management system. Coordinates outreach and engagement efforts with other university entities (e.g., initiates partnerships, serves on College-wide committees, etc.) to integrate library resources and services into the programming of those units. Maintain contact and collaborate with academic support services on supporting curricular and research projects on campus. Plans and implements training and professional development opportunities for subject and scholarly communications librarians on all aspects of library instruction, including theory, pedagogy, best practices, and available resources. Performs other duties related to Instruction and Engagement to accomplish the library goals. Serves as the department head for Instruction and Engagement with programmatic responsibility for functional areas and direct supervision of potentially up to 2 FTE librarians and several students. Plans and delivers innovative instruction services through undergraduate and graduate workshops; teaches research tools and skills relevant to information literacy.

Requirements:
. ALA-accredited master's degree in Library and Information Science OR equivalent education and experience (subject expertise combined with appropriate teaching experience and library experience).
. Minimum three years of professional librarian experience with demonstrated leadership responsibilities.
. Minimum two years of demonstrated knowledge and experience with instruction, information literacy, and assessment of library services and resources, including teaching and instruction experience in an academic or research library setting

Salary Range: DOE

Application Process:
Interested and qualified applicants should go to https://bowiestate.peopleadmin.com/ to apply online. Paper application submissions will not be considered.

Closing Date: Open until filled.