Location: University of Maryland, Baltimore
Job Title: HSHSL - Research and Education Librarian

Responsibilities: The Research and Education Librarian is a member of a collaborative team dedicated to advancing the library's research support and educational goals. The Health Sciences and Human Services Library (HSHSL) serves the University of Maryland, Baltimore (UMB) schools of dentistry, medicine, nursing, pharmacy, social work, and the graduate school. The faculty librarian in this position will serve as liaison to the University of Maryland School of Medicine (UMSOM). The UMSOM is a top-tier biomedical research institution with students in medicine, public health, physical therapy, and more. The Research and Education Librarian will cultivate and sustain connections between the UMB School of Medicine and the Library. Builds collaborative relationships with students, faculty, and staff, advocating for their research and learning needs.

Partners with members of the Research and Education Services department to develop innovative programs and services.
Delivers engaging instruction and consultations to students, emphasizing searching skills, finding quality evidence, critical appraisal of resources, and information management.
Consults and collaborates with faculty and staff in support of research and scholarly publishing.
Provides expert searching for systematic reviews, scoping reviews, and other research projects.
Develops workshops and video tutorials on searching, publishing, information management and other topics of interest to the UMB Community.
Participates actively on committees within the School of Medicine, the Library, the University, and professional organizations.
Develops inclusive and equitable working relationships with Library colleagues and with UMB students, faculty, and staff.
Engages in professional development, service, and research activities to enhance professional expertise and maintain or advance appointment rank.

Requirements:
Master's degree from an ALA-accredited program.
Demonstrated experience working in a library services position.
Experience in database searching, including familiarity with health sciences databases.
Training or experience in teaching to groups, either virtually or in-person.
Experience working in teams and independently.
Excellent communication skills.

Salary Range: $61,500 minimum, commensurate with experience.

Application Process:
https://umb.taleo.net/careersection/umb_faculty+and+post+docs/jobdetail.ftl?job=2300017H&lang=en
For more information, visit our website at:
https://www2.hshsl.umaryland.edu/hshsl/about/employment.cfm or email jobs@hshsl.umaryland.edu.

Closing Date: open until filled