“The most basic goal of any literacy program should be the development of readers who can read and who choose to read.”

Dr. Linda Gambrell, Best Practices in Literacy Instruction
The Mixed-up Madness

A windsurfer came out of the ocean and he saw the Statue of Liberty. A ship came up, and a polar bear appeared. A photographer took pictures of the scene and a bed. A magician did a magic trick, then got hungry and had some cheese. A flower got in the cheese. A squirrel picked a flower and put it in a hole. Then a dinosaur took over the world. A goat sat on a chair and ate some cheese. A bride married the goat and they both went into a house. The goat rode a camel.
